Who we are

Congress has over 40 years' experience providing comprehensive primary health care for Aboriginal people in Central Australia.

Our services

Our services target the social, emotional and cultural, as well as the physical wellbeing of Aboriginal people. These services include:

- The Main Clinic Service providing a wide range of medical care for Aboriginal people of all ages.
- Alukura Women's Health Service providing a wide range of medical services caring for women's and baby's health.
- Ingkintja Male Health Service and a 'Men's Shed' providing care for men's health and wellbeing.
- Child & Family Service providing care for Aboriginal children and their families, helping children to develop and learn in the critical early years.
- Social and Emotional Wellbeing Service providing care to improve the wellbeing of Aboriginal people of all ages.
- Education & Training Service providing training and employment for Aboriginal people interested in becoming health practitioners.
- Regional Health Services auspicing the delivery of health care services in nearby Aboriginal communities; Amoonguna, Santa Teresa, Ntaria, Utju and Mutitjulu.

Our members

Congress is a Aboriginal community controlled primary health care service. This means we rely on our members to keep us informed about the needs of our local Aboriginal community.

By being a member of Congress, you can have a say into the way we deliver our services.

To be a member, you need to be:

- Aboriginal
- 18 years of age or older
- Usually living in Central Australia
